

At the Court of King Hadric - Stavropol

(Chris Meacham)

Stavropol is the Emphidian ambassador to Hadric's court. A heavy-set man with thick curly black hair and beard, he enjoys his food and, more so, his drink. Most often wearing robes, these bear the stains of past meals, more so after Stavropol has been in his cups. Recently Stavropol's inebriation led to a diplomatic incident, stemming from an insult to the 'Kurland Sausage'. The Kurlish Ambassador was outraged and petitioned the King, who settled things between the two. There is still resentment on both sides.
